

Product Overview:

Data
 Nov. 2007

CFT – Compr/Flash Tank Cable

In addition to other services and design activities that Proser carries out, there is the design, production and testing of cables and harnesses for third parties. The CTF aerospace cable is a good example with its 100% tested liquid tightness characteristics (insulation, continuity and electrical resistance of connections) and the manufacturing process compliant with the best quality standards.

